Authority Issued By Johnson

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has given American field commanders in Viet Nam broad authority to call for—and get—additional fighting men to step up the war against the Communist Viet Cong.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara told newsmen, after a day-long policy conference Thursday at the LBJ Ranch, that Johnson had "instructed me to meet the requests from our military commanders for additional personnel as they are received."

Some requests for more men already have been received, McNamara said, and troops will move "as they become available for that purpose."

The defense chief said 160,000 uniformed Americans already are stationed in South Viet Nam. He wouldn't speculate on how many more would be sent because "we don't wish to give our opponents advance information on the forces that they will confront in the future."

Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who joined McNamara and other top policy advisers for the marathon session with Johnson, said Viet Nam actually took second place in the discussions to "the unilateral action of the white minority government in Rhodesia in illegally seizing power, an action which the United States government deplores."

Promising a further Rhodesia policy statement today from United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg, Rusk said Johnson had ordered the recall of American diplomats in the African country — headed by Consul General Roswell B. McClelland — and the shutdown of activities there by the United States Information Agency.

Ore Output Hiked

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China is reported producing 2,500 tons of uranium ore daily from three new mines in southern China and shipping it to Czechoslovakia for processing on a 50-50 basis.

The Chinese newspaper Sing Tao said the report came from a technician who recently defected from the Peking Institute of Chemical Industry.

Treason Charged

LONDON (AP) — The British government warned Prime Minister Ian Smith and his Rhodesian regime today their defiance of British authority is treason. The penalty is death.

Atty. Gen. Sir Elwyn Jones issued the warning in the House of Commons as the government sought emergency powers to restore Britain's authority over the breakaway, white-run colony in central Africa.

Jones warned Britons inside and outside Rhodesia that ac-

Kansas City Drive $82,000 Over Goal

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The United Fund campaign in the five-county Kansas City metropolitan area exceeded its goal by $82,000 Thursday night.

The final tabulation showed a total of $6,586,124, an increase of $33,446 over last year's campaign total. It was the greatest gift total in the 15-year history of the fund.

Increase Big Jet's Capability

To Carry 60,000 Pounds of Bombs To Cong Targets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is modifying some of its long-range B52 jets so they will be able to drop up to 21,750 more pounds of bombs on the Communist forces in South Viet Nam.

The Air Force said today changes it is making in the bomb bays of a portion of its B52 force will increase the total load of each plane from the present 38,250 pounds to as much as 60,000 pounds.

B52s, originally built for nuclear warfare, have been used since last June to dump loads of explosives on areas in South Viet Nam which have been Communist Viet Cong strongholds.

So far there have been more than 60 such B52 bombing missions, mostly from Guam where the United States has stationed some 30 of the eight-jet giants.

Officials have said they are pleased with the bombings which they say have harried the Communists and stripped the Reds of the security of previously impenetrable strongholds.

At present B52s can carry a total of 51 bombs weighing 750 pounds apiece. Twenty-seven of the bombs are carried in the bomb bays, and 24 more are mounted on the wings.

Under the modification, the bomb bays will be altered so they can handle up to 84 bombs weighing 500 pounds apiece or 42 bombs each weighing 750 pounds.

There will be no change in the external racks carrying 24 bombs of 750 pounds each.

500 Cong In Attack On Big 1

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A detachment of the U.S. Army's 1st Infantry Division fought off a sharp Viet Cong assault today in a day-long battle 40 miles north of Saigon. A spokesman said 100 of the enemy were killed and the toll probably would go higher.

American casualties were described as light at dusk as fighting that raged for 12 hours tapered off into a sporadic exchange of small arms fire.

Striking with recoilless rifles and mortars, a Viet Cong battalion of 500 troops, launched the attack against about 700 men of the division's 3rd Brigade. Reports from the scene said the Americans came under fire without warning. Planes and artillery helped turn back the guerrillas.

The troops were on an operation to secure Highway 13 on the edge of Zone D, which has been under Communist control since the end of World War II. In recent months, B52 bombers from Guam have pounded the jungled zone and U.S. troops have pressed major offensives in the area in an effort to deny the Viet Cong a sanctuary from which to operate.

U.S. fighter-bombers hit at the Viet Cong without letup during today's engagement. Pilots flew more than 40 missions against the enemy during the height of the clash.

The Americans had deployed along the highway when the Viet Cong attacked. The road is flanked on both sides by rubber plantations.

The Americans fired 165mm howitzers at the enemy at close range, and U.S. planes hammered the Viet Cong.

The spokesman said several U.S. armored personnel carriers were damaged.

The Viet Cong assault was the second Communist attack in five days against a major U.S. combat unit. On Monday a battalion from the 173rd Airborne Brigade fought the paratroopers' toughest battle of the war against a Viet Cong battalion in D Zone 30 miles north of the capital.

State Law Has Penalty On Late Tax

County tax statements are in the mail and County Collector Raymond F. Wilder pointed out Friday that a new state statute passed by the 73rd General Assembly provides for a penalty on delinquent merchants and manufacturers tax.

He cited the section of the statute as follows:

"Any person who shall fail to pay to the Collector of Revenue any merchant's and manufacturer's tax on the property of such person in said county on or before the 31st day of December next after the same shall have been assessed and levied, such tax shall be deemed delinquent, and said delinquent taxpayer shall pay in addition to such taxes which said taxpayer may stand charged on the tax books of such county a penalty of one per cent per month plus ten per cent interest, provided that such penalties shall not exceed more than ten per cent per annum."

Wilder explained previously there was no penalty on merchants and manufacturers ad valorem taxes, but rather any delinquents not paid by March 1 were required to be filed suit upon by the county collector.

The ad valorem tax statements do not bear notice of the penalty, Wilder said, as the statements were printed prior to receipt of the new statute.

"Beginning December 1 the collector's office will be open during the noon hour for the convenience of taxpayers," Wilder said.

The office is also open until noon on Saturdays.

50 Dive To Safety In Utah

SALT LAKE CITY — (AP) — A Boeing 727 jet airliner with 90 persons aboard burst into flames on landing at the city airport Thursday night burning 40 passengers to death in the fire-swept fuselage.

Another 50, including the entire crew of six, dived through windows and emergency hatches seconds before the fire raged forward from the three jet engines in the tail all the way to the flight deck.

Of the survivors, 43 were hospitalized. The dead were in the blackened fuselage.

A spokesman for United Air Lines, owner of the plane, blamed the disaster on the collapse of a nose wheel as the aircraft touched down.

The three rear-mounted engines of the 727 are fed by fuel lines leading back from tanks in the wings.

The flight originated in New York and reached Salt Lake City after stops in Cleveland, Chicago and Denver. Its scheduled destination was San Francisco.

The pilot, Capt. Gail C. Keimier, 48, of Denver, was among the hospitalized survivors. Hospital officials said he kept repeating, "Terrible, terrible."

It was the third 727 involved in fatal accidents since August and the second this week. The first plunged into Lake Michigan off Lake Forest, Ill., on Aug. 16, killing all 30 aboard. The second hit a hill while approaching Cincinnati Monday night, and 58 of the 62 persons aboard died.

The Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington dispatched 12 investigators to seek the cause of the crash.

A spokesman for the Federal Aviation Agency said in response to question, "At this point we can see no relationship between the three accidents and we have no plans for grounding 727 jets."

A similar view was expressed by Pader Hogue, chief flight safety engineer for Boeing. "I think it's a fine airplane and recent unfortunate experiences (Please turn to Page 4, Col. 8)

To Amend Motion In Holland Case

An amended motion seeking to vacate a 1945 murder conviction and life sentence against Edgar Holland was filed Friday in Circuit Court here.

Holland, a prisoner in the Missouri State Penitentiary, had filed an earlier motion in court on April 6 this year. The somewhat longer amended motion is virtually the same as the earlier one, however, it does include new allegations that a closing argument comment by the prosecuting attorney prejudiced the jury and that one juror lied during examination to secure a position on the jury.

The defendant was convicted here Feb. 3, 1945, on a charge of first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife, Mollie Mattie Holland, 36. Her headless body was found in the Lake of the Ozarks on April 17, 1944, a day after the body of her mother, Mrs. Pearl Fairfax, 56, was also found in the lake.

Robert G. Duncan, a Kansas City attorney, represents Holland in the action. Holland was 42 when convicted and resided at a farm home north of La Monte.

No date for a hearing on the motion has been set. Judge Frank W. Hayes of this circuit disqualified himself and Judge W. O. Jackson, Butler, was named by the Missouri Supreme Court to hear the motion.

Vietnamese Lead a Yank To His Death

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two apparent Viet Cong agents who posed as his friends led a young American aid employee to his death today in a Viet Cong ambush, U.S. officials said.

The victim was Peter Hunting, 24, of Oklahoma City, Okla. He was shot through the head five times while driving in the Mekong delta south of Saigon, a spokesman said.

Two Vietnamese who were with Hunting were apparently unharmed and were believed to have joined the Viet Cong.

Hunting was a regional supervisor for the International Voluntary Service.

Hunting's civilian vehicle was peppered with bullets. Members of a military convoy that he had passed five minutes earlier said they found his bullet-riddled body on the ground.

After shooting Hunting through the head, the Viet Cong fired 10 more bullets into his body, they said.

Hunting had departed with the two Vietnamese from the delta city of Vinh Long. They were on their way to Can Tho, 20 miles away and about 10 miles south of Saigon.

Earlier reports had said that he was killed when a mine exploded under the vehicle, but this was erroneous, the spokesman said.

The guerrillas opened fire on the convoy, but quickly broke contact with the troops returned the fire.

Col. Waggoner Buried

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, head of the Missouri Highway Patrol, was buried this afternoon at Riverview Cemetery as hundreds of governmental and political leaders from throughout Missouri and other states gathered to pay their final tribute.

Col. Waggoner died Wednesday of an apparent heart attack.

Serving as honorary pallbearers at the funeral were ranking officers of the organization Col. Waggoner headed.

An honor guard consisted of troopers and sergeants who went on duty Thursday afternoon.

Missourians Among Dead In Jet Crash

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Four St. Louis residents including a family of three, were listed as killed or unaccounted for in a United Air Lines Boeing 727 jet crash Thursday night. The plane burned after landing at Salt Lake City.

Two other Missourians were injured.

In Chicago, United listed Mr. and Mrs. H. Blaisdell, their son, H. Blaisdell II and J. Cavin, all of St. Louis, as killed or unaccounted for.

Ray Yerkes of Springfield, Mo., was treated at Veterans Hospital in Salt Lake and released.

George Smutney, 55, of Kansas City, suffered a fracture of the right foot and facial burns. He was admitted to St. Mark's hospital.

Midwest district manager for a milling equipment manufacturer (Entoleter, Inc.), Smutney had boarded the plane in Denver. He was going to Salt Lake City to attend a business meeting.

A Sheriff 'Nabbed'

NEWTON, Kan. (AP) — A Newton policeman was checking licenses of drivers recently. After looking at one license he handed it back and said:

Eisenhower Heart Attack Is Confirmed

FT. GORDON, Ga. (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's illness was diagnosed today as a true heart attack.

Revising their first estimate that the 75-year-old five-star general had suffered only a heart insufficiency, the medical team issued a new report on the basis of late tests.

Eisenhower, vacationing at his cottage on the Augusta National Golf Club course, suffered chest pains Monday night and was taken to the nearby Ft. Gordon Army Hospital.

The finding was that he suffered from a shortage of blood supply to heart muscles, producing angina pectoris or heart pain.

Today Capt. Wallace Hitchcock, the fort's information officer, reported that further electrocardiogram tests had revealed Eisenhower suffered a genuine heart attack.

The statement said, however, that the one-time leader of the nation in war and peace had spent a restful night, has had no further chest pains and was "in excellent spirits this morning."

Doctors In Lineup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors under 35, some of them fathers, are being ordered to take physical examinations for possible induction into the armed forces in January.

The Selective Service orders are going out to fill a Defense Department call for 1,529 physicians, 350 dentists and 100 veterinarians to go on duty early next year.

SALT LAKE CITY—Daylight air view made early Friday shows the gutted United Air Lines 727 jet which crashed and burned on landing here last night. Forty of the 90 persons aboard died in the crash.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: I have a problem and since you caused it I hope you will straighten it out. My husband passed away five months ago. This may sound terrible, but his death freed me from a living hell. We never had any children because he didn't want any. For 11 years I put up with his lying, drinking, gambling and abusive language. On three separate occasions he brought women home to spend the night. I was quietly making plans to leave him when he was killed in an accident.

A long-time friend who lost his wife two years ago has asked me to marry him. I have said yes. He is a fine person and I want to be a mother to his two little girls.

Now—the trouble. I asked my clergyman how long it was proper for a widow to wait before she remarries. He said "At least one year." Then I wrote you. Your reply was, "It's how you feel that counts."

Well, Ann, I feel like getting married tomorrow. Who is right, you or the clergyman? — DILEMMA.

Dear Dil: People who go around collecting opinions should be prepared for a variety of answers. The "wait a year" custom is well and good if a widow wishes to pay real respect to her deceased husband. But why pay respect to 11 years of hell?

Dear Ann Landers: I got married three months ago and already I am writing to Ann Landers. I think this is a bad sign.

Before I married Adelle she told me her mother would always come first in her life, no matter what. Well, she is proving it.

My father-in-law's business takes him out of town every three weeks for two days. Adelle goes to sleep with her mother whenever her father is out of town and I am left alone. I don't like this a bit and I have said so, but I might as well talk to the fire hydrant. Where do I stand?—HOUSTON.

Dear Houston: You stand second to your mother-in-law, which is exactly where Adelle TOLD you you stood before you married her. So why are you surprised?

Buy a daybed for your mother-in-law and put it in the living room or the kitchen. Then NOBODY will be alone.

Dear Ann Landers: I didn't like your answer to "Crisis In Suburbia." A mother wanted to know if her sons were entitled to an increase in allowance because their father received a promotion and a pay raise. You said, "Yes—provided they take on extra chores and EARN the increase."

I am a grandfather who is appalled at what is happening to the younger generation. I think it's disgraceful to pay children for doing what they SHOULD do. After all, they are a part of the family so why shouldn't they pitch in? Paying children for every little thing makes me sick. I say kids should help around the house because they live in the house and eat and sleep there. That's reason enough.—THREE SCORE AND TEN.

Dear Three Score: Sorry, but the days are gone when you can give a kid a nickel and say, "Go have a good time." Children ought to have a little money to spend and to save.

Most kids today get an allowance for tying up the bathroom and hogging the telephone. I'm in favor of teaching children that there is some relationship between work and rewards. This can best be achieved by assigning specific chores and making it clear that the allowance is payment.

Hubbies In Microscopes Of Actresses

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Do American or European men make better husbands?

If you were Virna Lisi, Italian, beautiful with pale blonde hair and emerald eyes, you would favor the European male. But then, she is married to Italian builder Franco Pesci.

If you were Elke Sommer, ice-blond with Germanic good looks, you would advocate the American man. Quite naturally, since she is wed to American journalist Joe Hyams.

The two stellar imports were given separate but equal opportunities to argue their beliefs one November day. They were working a block apart — Elke at Producers' Studio with Bob Hope in "Boy, Did I Get a Wrong Number!" and Virna at Paramount with Frank Sinatra in "Assault on a Queen."

"American men are more patient with their wives and more affectionate," Elke observed. "They are very glad when you let them be the boss, because they aren't used to that. In Europe, the husband is always the boss."

On the latter score, Virna agreed. She added: "Italian men are very possessive. In Italy it is difficult for a wife to work, or even to go shopping. Her husband wants to know where she is at all times."

"Naturally the system is better for the man. But women in Italy don't think anything about it. They have always lived that way, and in some respects it is good for them. They remain feminine. And it is very important for a woman to be a woman and not try to be the man."

Elke concluded: "It is bad when a woman tries to dominate the man. Men like femininity. In Europe there is more femininity."

Said Virna: "What happens between a man and a woman when they fall in love is something beautiful. But in America the relationship can change after marriage. If the woman tries to take over the husband's role, they are no longer lovers. They become like brother and sister. That is bad."

Elke admitted that is bad, and she has a formula to avoid it: "A woman should be first a mistress to her husband, then a wife and mother, and finally, a housekeeper. If he wanted a woman who was only a housekeeper, he could go out and hire one."

Proposal Harder Than Dentistry

The SIKESTON STANDARD
Written for The Associated Press

SIKESTON, Mo. (AP) — To hear him tell it, pulling a tooth held no terror for Dr. Handy L. Smith compared to asking for his bride's hand in marriage back in 1905.

The now 77-year-old retired dentist sought and obtained permission to marry Miss Lillian Applegate.

"I was scared to death when I asked her father, R. G. Applegate, for her hand," he recalled. "I will never forget it. It was in his study where my living room is now. We did our courting in the parlor."

Dr. Smith, retired since 1962, still lives in the house where he courted his bride. They bought it from her father's estate in 1917 and moved in. Mrs. Smith died in 1940.

During his first years of practice, following his graduation in 1900 from the Washington University dental school in St. Louis, he kept count of his extractions.

"They averaged 1,000 a year," he recalled.

The cost was 50 cents per extraction. He remembered a woman who came all the way from Blodgett, about 10 miles north of here, to have 32 teeth pulled.

"I didn't think she would live," he said, "but she did and I finally got to make her a new set of teeth."

She benefitted from the combined rate of $25, he said. When he opened his office there was no electricity for offices and residences. His drills and lathes were operated like the old foot-pedal sewing machines.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor government expects to pick up another vote in a special election today and increase its one-vote majority in Parliament.

Labor party leaders were confident that their candidate, A. James Wellbeloved, 39, would win the House of Commons seat from Erith and Crayford, a Labor stronghold.

The seat became vacant with the death last August of Norman Dodds, who rolled up a majority of almost 9,000 votes over his Conservative opponent in the national elections last year.

The Conservative candidate is David Madel, 27.

Candidate Campaigns On 'Heated' Trail

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—Some-what like Joshua of Biblical times, Church of God Bishop Bill Rogers stormed the walls of the Sedgewick County courthouse.

But unlike the walls of Jericho, the courthouse walls remained unmoved.

A handful of spectators watched as Rogers walked, jumped and ran around the courthouse seven times Thursday.

He concluded the tour by clenching his fists, leaping into the air, and shouting: "America, look to the Lord and live."

Rogers, who said he is the Theocratic party candidate for president in 1968, said he is on a tour of the more than 3,000 courthouses in the United States with his message. Sedgewick County was No. 34 on his list, he said.

Black Will Appeal New Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fred B. Black Jr., whose 1964 income tax evasion conviction was upheld Wednesday by a U.S. Court of Appeals, will appeal that decision, his attorney, Bert B. Rand, said.

Black was convicted of failing to report $140,087 of income items for 1956-58, and was sentenced to 15 months to four years in prison and fined $10,000.

Wednesday a U.S. Appeals Court divided 2-1 in upholding the conviction. Black, meanwhile remains free on bond.

Besides the government tax claim of $91,000, a tax lien was filed last month against Black in the amount of $340,429 for allegedly unpaid taxes from 1960 through 1964.

Black was a vending machine business associate of Bobby Baker, who quit as Senate majority secretary when his outside business activities came under investigation of the Senate Rules Committee.

A Washington public relations man, Black also has pending a $9 million breach of contract suit against North American Aviation.

Black claimed that even if the items in the government case were taxable, his actions lacked sufficient criminal intent for conviction because he relied on a business agent of his public relations firm, Blyco Corp., in Joplin, Mo., to prepare his returns.

This claim was rejected by the two judges who upheld the sentence—Carl McGowan and John A. Danaher. The third judge—Wilbur K. Miller—dissented, he said, because the government's case "was so cloudy and proof of criminal intent was so conspicuously absent." Miller also said trial publicity was so "inflammatory" that Black's motion for a mistrial should have been granted.

Depth Probe Of Blackout In 8-States

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government-industry search for the cause of Tuesday's massive Northeastern power blackout will continue next week, Chairman Joseph C. Swidler of the Federal Power Commission said today.

He told reporters companies which were involved in the failure were being asked to provide additional records by Monday morning for study by a panel of experts and through this means it is hoped "to confirm exactly what did happen."

Swidler said the closed-door sessions in the inquiry directed by the President to pinpoint the cause and come up with recommendations to prevent recurrence probably would run through today and then be recessed until Monday.

"We are asking the companies to provide us with some of their basic records or copies of them," Swidler said.

These include tie-line operations and voltage conditions.

Monday a group of experts will try to correlate the records and confirm exactly what did happen, Swidler said, adding, "We hope to begin to yet a better line on the precise events of Tuesday."

Coming suddenly during the evening rush hour, the blackout at its peak enveloped 80,000 square miles in an eight-state area and affected up to 30 million persons. Power in New York City was off for more than 10 hours, with hundreds of thousands of persons stranded in subways and elevators.

During a break in the long session Thursday night, Swidler said: "There is no easy answer to this. We are just plowing ahead."

After the session, he added: "We have exchanged a great deal of information on what took place, but there are still some gaps."

Swidler indicated he had some doubts as to whether he would have a preliminary report to President Johnson ready by this weekend as he first had hoped. "I did not intend to fix a deadline for myself," he said.

After meeting for 14 hours Thursday, Swidler said the problem still was one of finding where the failure occurred.

"The breakdown is not traceable to any unit," he said. "The systems went back into service with the same equipment. The problem of tracing is a complex one."

The Power Commission, a panel of government power experts and officials of the private power companies affected, and several others are taking part in the discussions aimed at preventing any similar power blackout in the future.

Occupants of vehicles which figured in two separate one-car accidents Thursday night on north U. S. Highway 65 at the Bothwell School bridge escaped injuries. The first accident occurred about 7:30 p. m. and the second about a half an hour later.

The first mishap involved a 1963 Cadillac sedan, driven north by Ray Joseph Reiser, 59, Wichita, Kan. According to the report Reiser stated he was blinded by an approaching vehicle's lights and in applying his brakes the car went into a skid, striking the west concrete rail of the bridge and bouncing back across the highway, coming to a stop on the east shoulder of the highway just north of the bridge.

About 8 p. m. a 1965 International pickup truck, driven by Jack Locus Jones, 39, Marshall, was enroute north when he saw red lights and applied his brakes putting his vehicle into a skid. The truck struck the south abutment on the west side of the bridge and skidded cross ways on the bridge, blocking the highway for a time.

Both vehicles were extensively damaged. The Cadillac was towed to Sedalia by the Parks wrecker while the truck was towed back to Sedalia by a wrecker from the DX Showcase station.

Trooper Robert W. Bruce of the Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Pete Felton, 1409 West Fifth, charged with parking on the wrong side of the street, forfeited a $2 bond.

Accidents

No one was injured in a two-car rear-end collision at Broadway and Grand at 8:26 p. m. Thursday.

A 1964 Oldsmobile, driven by Floyd M. Tinker, 37, 501 North Quincy, was stopped in the outside lane headed west on Broadway waiting for the light to change. A 1964 Comet, driven by Velma B. Clayton, 47, Kansas City, was behind the Tinker car and, unable to stop in time, collided with the right rear bumper.

Damage was to the entire left front door and window of the Comet and to the right rear of the Oldsmobile.

The front bumper of a parked 1964 Corvair, owned by Jack B. Wilhite, Springfield, was damaged at 311 East Seventh at 5:55 p. m. Thursday.

A 1960 Chevrolet being backed by Howard E. Nichols, 35, 301 West Seventh, came into contact with the Wilhite auto. Nichols' car was undamaged.

The committee's report to the association's annual convention said: "It was indicated that users tend to respect that for which they have paid more than they if they obtain it free. Entrance fees also provide funds for better regulation, maintenance and service."

Road Signs That Talk, May Be Next

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of these days, highway signs may talk to drivers, instead of just advising them via the printed word.

Findings are due next year from studies at Georgia Tech on the value of traffic messages presented by radio. The Ford-Philco people have developed a way to deliver them.

These new wrinkles were discussed in an interview by Burton Stevens, a psychologist with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads.

"No one is sure what those messages should contain, nor even sure whether it is a good idea," Stevens said. "One question is how many times to present the message, how far ahead of an intersection for example."

There are transmission problems. Messages are sent from a transmitter by the side of the road, and picked up by the passing driver with special receiving equipment inside the car or truck. They could come in on a beam to which the car radio could be set. Conceivably the messages could be broadcast loudly from the roadside. But what if the radio was not turned on? Or the car windows were rolled up and the driver couldn't hear what was being loud-speakered?

It may come as a surprise to some that the Bureau of Public Roads has psychologists working on it. But they've been there from the behavioral sciences for almost six years, working with a great variety of problems created by drivers, vehicles and highways.

"For one thing, we're studying the limitations and capabilities of the driver," Stevens said. "For example, there is a lot of controversy over how much sign information a driver can absorb and act on when he comes to a big traffic interchange."

People differ in their skills, naturally, even in their ability to read. Some drivers may be sleepy, or under the influence of alcohol.

"We hope to develop a system that can be used efficiently by a variety of people with a wide variety of conditions," Stevens said. "Our approach is not restrictive. We have not attempted to suggest stricter licensing. We recognize the importance of transportation in economic and social life."

One of the most popular developments in recent years has been the "yield" sign, often in place of a stop sign, where a less-busy road enters a main highway.

"These yield signs let people make an evaluation for themselves: should they pull into the highway, or wait a while? They recognize the decision is theirs and I suspect they normally face up to the situation," Stevens said.

KENNETT, Mo. (AP)—A blast from a 16 gauge shotgun killed O. T. Bean, 41, Thursday night in a farmhouse yard near Hermendale about 15 miles southeast of Kennett.

Dunlin County Sheriff Raymond Scott said Bean had driven Mrs. Becky Lou Harris to her home. Mrs. Harris got out of the car and walked into the house. She heard a shot after stepping inside the building, rushed back outside and found Dean in the yard dead.

The patrol said the Thomas car, carrying 11 persons, was on the wrong side of the road. James Whitfield, 28, of West Memphis, Ark., driving the tractor-trailer rig, pulled into a ditch and the Thomas vehicle crashed into the rear wheels of the trailer.

Names and ages of the children were not known.

The injured, all from St. Louis were taken to Pemiscott County Memorial Hospital in Hayti, Mo. A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Eddie Mae Hammond, 28, was in fair to poor condition; Loubarda Hammond, 13, and Glen Hammond, 7, were satisfactory, and Judge Johnson, 25, and Mary Johnson, 32, were treated and released.

41-Year-Old Grandmother Drives Big Rig

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—New Jersey State Police were nonplussed recently when they stopped a huge, steel-laden tractor-trailer truck and down stepped a 41-year-old grandmother.

Leona Murphy, who stands barely over five feet in her cowboy boots, said she was stopped the first three times she drove the truck on the New Jersey Turnpike. Each time she produced the necessary license and was waved on.

Mrs. Murphy, whose husband, Charles, 41, owns the rig, has been driving for two years. She and her husband drive four-hour shifts.

"I wouldn't be driving except we own the rig," said Mrs. Murphy. "If we didn't then I would be taking a man's job and I don't think that's right."

How do the other truck drivers accept her? "They mostly gawk," she said, "but they figure if I'm tough enough to drive, they'll go along with me."

Senator's Son May Fill Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is strong speculation around the Senate that the Harry Byrd name may not be missing from the 1966 roll-call lists despite Sen. Harry F. Byrd's resignation.

The 78-year-old Virginia Democrat quit the Senate Thursday with a formal resignation submitted to and accepted by Gov. Albert S. Harrison Jr.

Byrd said he was stepping down because of his health. He has been suffering from arthritis.

Harrison is expected to act speedily to name a successor to fill Byrd's seat until next November's election. Virginia will elect two senators at that time, with Sen. A. Willis Robertson, 78, seeking a new six-year term.

At the top—or near it—of Harrison's list of prospective appointees is the name of Harry F. Byrd Jr., 51, son of the retiring senator and a Virginia state senator since 1947. The younger Byrd is publisher of the Winchester Evening Star and the Harrisonburg Daily News-Record in his state.

Harrison has had close association with the Byrds since he managed the retiring senator's 1952 campaign. He benefitted when the younger Byrd decided not to seek the Democratic nomination for governor in 1961.

There was some speculation that Harrison might name an interim appointee and seek the office himself. The name of Rep. William M. Tucker, former governor, had been mentioned as a possible appointee. But he said he had called the governor, told him he did not want the appointment, and recommended the younger Byrd for the post.

Byrd's departure from the Senate will deliver the chairmanship of the powerful Senate Finance Committee into the hands of Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La. Long, now 47, carried much of the committee load this year when Byrd was physically handicapped by painful arthritis in a knee.

In Phoenix, Ariz., Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., Senate president pro tempore, said Long is likely to become Finance Committee chairman with Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., probably becoming assistant Democratic leader.

Crash Claims Lives of Four Near Marston

MARSTON, Mo. (AP)—Four persons were killed and five injured in a car which collided with a tractor-trailer rig early today one-half mile north of Marston on U. S. 61 in extreme southeast Missouri.

The Highway Patrol identified the dead as Alfred Thomas, 27, St. Louis; Harvey Johnson, 17, Coldwater, Miss., and two small children.

Names and ages of the children were not known.

The injured, all from St. Louis were taken to Pemiscott County Memorial Hospital in Hayti, Mo. A hospital spokesman said Mrs. Eddie Mae Hammond, 28, was in fair to poor condition; Loubarda Hammond, 13, and Glen Hammond, 7, were satisfactory, and Judge Johnson, 25, and Mary Johnson, 32, were treated and released.

Accidents In Troop A Area Down

Troop A of the Missouri Highway Patrol reported 3,459 accidents were investigated by the Patrol in the first ten months of 1965 in the 13 mid-western counties of Missouri served by the troop.

A total of 3,544 accidents were investigated during the corresponding period in 1964.

Fatalities declined to 149 from 160 in 1964. Injuries dropped from 2,699 to 2,538 this year while property damage was $2,319,546 as compared to $2,418,213 for the corresponding period in 1964. Seven counties showed a decrease, six counties showed an increase in the number of persons killed.

Accidents in Pettis County for the month of October showed an increase from 33 in 1964 to 45 this month. No one was killed in Pettis County during October, down from one fatality in October 1964. Injuries rose from 22 to 24. Property damage took a substantial drop from $35,730

There they go—57 Dolphins into the cold, cold drink.

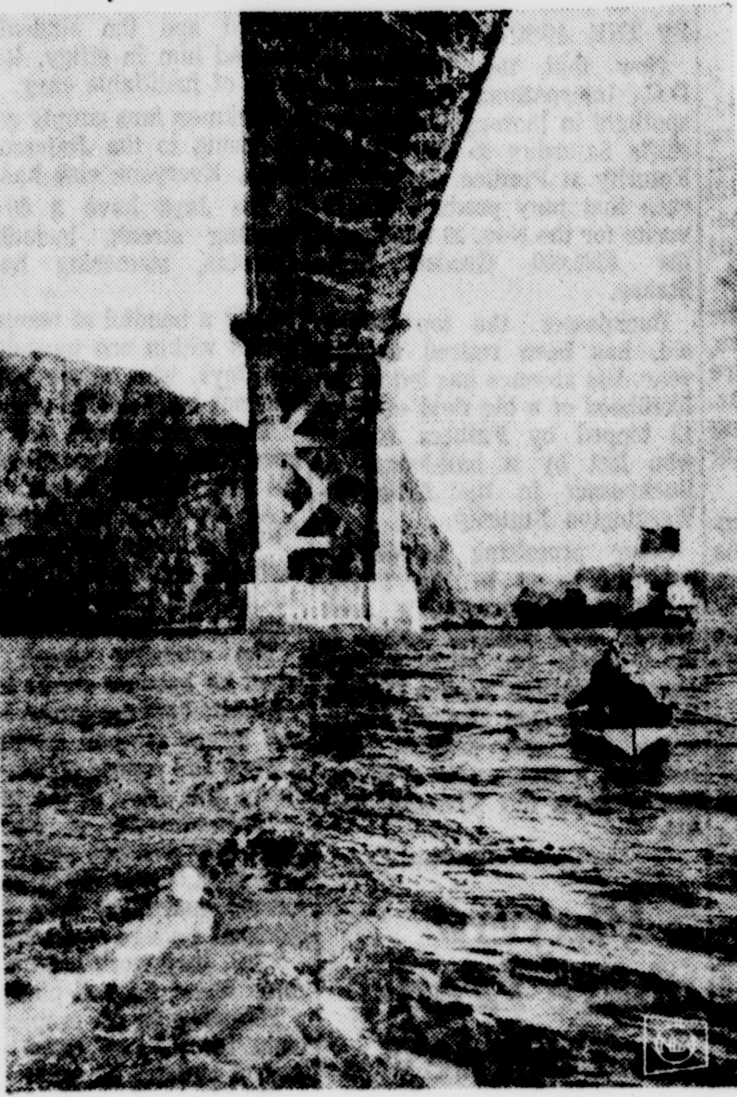

Just Because It's There . . .

Among them were longshoremen, lawyers, college athletes, postmen, teachers, insurance men, shopkeepers. Why they congregate each year for this odd mile swim, no one really knows. They call themselves the Dolphins and each fall this is one of the things that happens in San Francisco. While time for the swim is of some importance, the main objective is to get across at each individual's best pace. This year, the event's 13rd, 55 made it. Two others had to quit when the tide turned and began to carry them out toward the sea.

Annual objective is to swim across the Golden Gate. Chart showed how to defeat the pull of tide.

Right on course, under the Golden Gate Bridge, is one of the swimmers accompanied by his pilot rowboat.

Real Cheers for Hospital Patient

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that hospital patients get tired of hearing:
"Now remember, when we get into Joe's room, no matter how he looks, tell him he looks great."
"Hi, Joe, gee, you're looking great."
"Don't worry about your work. The guy who took it over is doing a great job — handles it between his regular duties and says it's no trouble at all."
"Talk about your operation! Did I ever tell you about mine?"
"I hear while you were under ether the doctors were playing marbles with your gallstones."
"It's time to take your temperature again."
"Wake up. It is almost dawn."
"Of course, a few pains are to be expected. After all, as the French say, we can't make an omelette without breaking a few eggs, can we?"
"Well, I guess I won't get to be one of your pallbearers this week."
"Joe, I hate to bring this up while you're lying here flat on your back. But remember that $5 I loaned you just before they carted you off to the hospital? Naturally, I am not one to crowd anybody in your position, but—"
"Just sign here, Honey. The lawyer said it was only a formality and a kind of precaution. But, according to him, it is only common sense that every man should make out a last will and testament."

"Yeah, before I got this job as intern I used to be a veterinarian in Yugoslavia. But when you come to a new country you got to earn a living any way you can."

"Excuse me, sir. I'm one of the hospital trustees. We are trying to increase our foundation fund, and I wondered if you would care to contribute—"

'Skin' For The Seaman

Hollywood's Movie Output Brings Moans From Navy

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

WITH 7TH FLEET OFF VIET NAM (AP) — "Movies are better than nothing," they say cynically in the Navy, but they really aren't sure.

Hardly a man alive can boast of having seen Warner Baxter recently in "Prisoner of Shark Island" or Don Ameche and Andrea Leeds in "Swanee River," except the 4,500 men aboard the carrier Independence. The pictures have been shown a half dozen times.

"We've got movies on this ship that I saw back in Korea," said Lt. Cmdr. Dale Schuster of Seattle, Wash., executive officer of the refrigerated ship Vega as he fingered a platter of warm popcorn and suffered through "The Lion and the Horse," a horse opera.

"For all I know, they may have even shown some of them at Antietam."

The long empty days at sea turn most sailors into astute and caustic movie critics. In trading cans of film to other ships, the projectionists usually append little flyers of prose, scrawled in laundry marking pencil, deriding the contents. As befitting the muggy, torrid climate in the South China Sea, these comments can be both salty and sizzling.

Thus "no skin" means that the enclosed offering is singularly lacking in feminine acting talent.

"Only the projectionist was around for the last reel," speaks for itself.

"All symbolism, no sex" — this over a turgid Swedish number that some censor had managed to get his scissors on.

"Movies of this caliber tend to improve the quality of our bridge games," was the way the boys in the wardroom on the destroyer escort Kretschmer torpedoes "Gidget Goes to Rome."

According to Vice Adm. B. J. Semmes Jr., chief of naval personnel, the Navy spends $4 million a year on new movies, but Hollywood's output these days is so slim and the 7th Fleet's appetite so voracious that Loretta Young is making a whole new generation of fans with showings at sea of "The Crusades." It shouldn't be any time at all before Mae Busch is named "Queen of the Fleet" and Vietnamese bar girls begin affecting the bee-stung-lip look.

Whenever ships meet at sea or pass in the night, they try to trade off movies by letting the other ship know, by blinker light or semaphore, since most of the fleet is under radio silence what they have to offer. The idea of course is to get a "Tom Jones" for a "Son of Samson" or a "How to Murder Your Wife" for Vincent Price in "The Raven." It doesn't always work out that way.

"Every ship wants to unload its dogs and get 'Lord Jim' or 'Irma la Douce' in return," sighed Ens. Charlie Vollmer of Philadelphia, movie officer on the Kretschmer. "I'm still catching hell for trading off 'Bye, Bye Birdie' for 'Fall of the Roman Empire'."

One garlic opera brought an explosion of riotous laughter to the crowded hangar deck of the helicopter carrier two Jima, when the master of a Grecian slave galleon ordered his mates to shove off by shouting, "Untie the ropes!"

"Hey," said Capt. David Scott, commander of the two Jima, "I think I'll give that order next time we leave San Diego."

Refrigerator and general stores ships have the worst of it. Since they are in the supply business and carry movies for distribution to the fleet, they are required to list what they have on a big blackboard on the bridge and take whatever is given in return.

"We start out from Subic Bay in the Philippines with a hatch full of Academy Award winners and end up with a turkey farm," commented Lt. Cmdr. Donald Beals of Salem, Ore., supply officer on the Vega.

A common complaint on all the ships at sea is that picking the movies is left to the ship's engineers, since they have dominion over the projector, rather than leaving it to the intellectual side of the ship, namely, the bridge.

"The trouble is," sighed Lt.

(fig.) Charles N. Granville III, a Yale man aboard the Kretschmer, "there's really no room in the wardroom at movie time for the young intellectual at sea. The senior officers want Westerns, the ensigns want 'Beach Blanket Bingo' and the crew wants skin."

It's Lovely So Let's Ruin It!

The United States government is currently pleading anew with its citizens to please, PLEASE not destroy the natural beauty of their national parks.

The fact that such a plea is needed, plus the apathy that has greeted President Johnson's program for highway beautification, prompts the glum conclusion that somewhere along the line in developing America the Beautiful we have become so accustomed to litter and ugliness that we now accept them as a part of modern living.

You have to see the abuse and destruction of our natural beauty to believe it could happen in an enlightened civilization. But happening it is and to such an extent that it is both frightening and sickening.

There are a depressing number of oddballs who are either too lazy, too sloppy, too selfish, too insensitive to beauty, or too contemptuous of the comfort and welfare of others to clean up their own litter, to extinguish their picnic embers or campfires, or to leave things neat and tidy for the next fellow.

There are others even worse who are not only insensitive to beauty, but are impelled to destroy it by senseless vandalism.

These weirdies risk their lives to plaster their names in huge letters on scenic cliffs. They smear grease and paint on historic markers. They clog up geysers in national parks. They defile and mutilate statues of American heroes.

How can we stop or at least reduce such wanton desecration of natural beauty which this year is attracting 100 million Americans to our national parks alone?

One simple way is for each of us to make sure we leave our picnic spot or campsite as clean and beautiful as we found it—or to report it to the proper authorities if we find it littered or unclean.

If enough of us do this, perhaps the litterbugs will get the message. They'll get it even faster, of course, if more of them get the legal punishment they deserve.

Either we do this, or someone had better start composing a stirring new patriotic anthem, "God Help America, Land of Debris."

Advice to First-Time Dad

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: My first child is due in 2½ months. My mother was coming to stay with us after it is born but has written to say I can't count on her as my step-father may have to re-enter the hospital. She sent a check to help pay a helper. My husband wants to send it back. He says that his mother will be hurt if we hire a stranger instead of asking her to stay with us. I like her but do not want her with me right away. I don't know how to tell my husband this as he will be hurt, too.

ANSWER: Ask your obstetrician to tell him. He knows that helpers whose feelings get easily hurt are not the kind for first-time mothers to have around them. Your husband, a first-time father, needs to know this.

If we're a first-time mother, our emotional comfort is the prime essential because the baby's depends on ours. So we can't have helpers around us whose sensitive feelings we have to soothe in addition to soothing our own naturally uncertain feelings as we go about learning to give the baby his bath, dress him, superintend his feedings and do all the other new chores which at first seem so overwhelming. We need all our soothing energies for ourselves and the baby.

Our relatives are not always suitable helpers at this time. Unless we feel free to be honest with them, old tensions between us can develop a strained but secret competition about whose concern for the baby is the better concern, into disagreements over the right way to hold him in his bath, over what his crying indicates.

Unless we feel free to say, "I have to do it my way because I have to learn if it's the wrong way," fear of our inferior competence can make us so anxious that we allow ourselves to get pushed away from the baby. Sometimes we never quite recover our confidence as mothers.

Babies are very sensitive to tensions in the grownups around them. So the first rule of baby care is our own emotional quietness.

I do hope that your obstetrician (or the pediatrician you have chosen) makes this rule's priority clear to your husband.

As a first-time father, he's got some new things to learn, too. He's got to learn that all the bigger experience and knowledge of baby care possessed by his mother or any other helper are going to be liabilities to the baby if they are used in any way to make the mother feel inadequate or self-bellitting.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Armistice Day was appropriately observed with services being held in the lobby of the Pettis County Court House instead of on the west lawn as in previous years. A wreath was placed at the base of the Doughboy by Mrs. Jennie Hilligos, gold star mother. She was escorted by Commander Harry O'Neill of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and by Carl Speiser of the American Legion. Judge Dimmitt Hoffman was the principal speaker. A firing squad was composed of the following veterans: P. J. Fisher, G. J. Ratje, J. A. McCullough, Lloyd E. Fulton, Nobel Vander Pool, Elliott E. Hammond, S. J. Lutyen and Pearle English. Taps were sounded by Charles F. Hartenbach, Spanish American War veteran. Presiding at the service was Stanton Hudson, commander of the American Legion post. Invocation was by the Rev. Walter Arnold.

NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE: Aid for the Victim. — California has recently come up with a couple of laws that make a start toward righting some of the tragic injustices that so often result from crime.

One—the first of its kind in the United States — makes public funds available to help innocent victims of violence. The amount provided is small (a total of $100,000 a year to cover all claims, with need a key factor), but at least it establishes the principle of community assistance. The other law provides indemnities for private citizens injured while trying to help catch criminals or prevent crimes.

The contagious spread of violence calls for imagination not only in thwarting the violent but also in helping the victim. Keeping the public peace is, after all, a community responsibility.

The World Today

Familiar Ring to Rhodesia Declaration

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The two documents were separated by the Atlantic Ocean, 189 years of history, and broad changes in the attitudes of mankind but there was an ironic similarity between them.

In Africa's Rhodesia, a British colony, the white inhabitants Thursday declared their independence of the mother country, the first time that had happened since the American colonies broke away in 1776.

And the Rhodesian prime minister, Ian Smith, read from a declaration that borrowed unashamedly from the American Declaration of Independence of July 4, 1776.

The American declaration had started off: "When in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another..."

The Rhodesian declaration began: "Whereas in the course of human affairs history has shown that it may become necessary for a people to resolve the political affiliations which have connected them with another people..."

Smith is a white racist. In the 150,000 square miles of Rhodesia, which has been a self-governing British colony 43 years, there are 225,000 white people and 4 million Africans.

The whites are boss, and keeping the Negroes down economically and politically, they want to remain boss. That was why, despite all British efforts to the contrary, they declared their independence Thursday.

When Thomas Jefferson wrote the American Declaration of Independence, which Congress adopted, the overwhelming number of Negroes in this country were slaves.

And, although Jefferson went on in the declaration to say all men are created equal, he was a slaveholder when he wrote it and when he died 50 years to the day after his declaration, his will freed only three of his slaves.

And although Americans every July 4 celebrate Independence Day, white supremacists to this day still oppose equal treatment for Negroes.

Successive British governments had offered Rhodesia independence if the white rulers would give guarantees that political responsibility would then be shifted fairly swiftly to that black majority of 4 million.

But white supremacists in Rhodesia refused. Smith argued it would take 15 to 100 years for Rhodesian Negroes to attain the educational and economic levels necessary for equality at the polls.

Now Rhodesia is one of a few islands of white supremacy in a sea of new Negro-run nations on the African continent.

The British prime minister, Harold Wilson, who tried to get the white Rhodesians to hold up on independence unless the Negroes were guaranteed a full role, found himself from the start in a bit of a fix.

He had been pushed toward compromise by signs that a head-on clash with the white Rhodesians, who are mostly of British origin, would cause serious strains in Britain.

At the same time Asian and African leaders of nations which are part of the British Commonwealth were demanding stronger action and he didn't want to offend them.

So, while he has said Britain would not use force against Rhodesia if it declared independence, Thursday he invoked a series of economic sanctions intended to force the new Rhodesian government to its knees.

And President Johnson, who has fought hard to push through Congress one civil rights bill after another to protect Negroes' rights in this country, had promised Wilson he would back up Britain in economic actions against Rhodesia.

Thursday the Johnson administration said it would take such actions but they may not amount to much since this country's economic dealings with Rhodesia are minor.

Thursday, prodded by the Africans, the 117-nation General Assembly of the United Nations voted 107 to 2 to condemn Rhodesia and ask Britain to move fast to quell the rebellion. South Africa and Portugal voted no. France abstained.

But even sanctions against Rhodesia may badly hurt two of its Negro nation neighbors, Malawi and Zambia, which had argued against sanctions because both of them depend on Rhodesia for electricity and railway transit to the sea.

First Hand Look At War

Lack Of Front Increases Viet Danger

EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press correspondent Peter Arnett has covered the Viet Nam war for more than three years. Here he recounts what it is like to report the war first hand.

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — For men whose daily job it is to capture and transmit the taste, the feel, the smell of battle, few wars have been as perilous as the nightmarish struggle in Viet Nam.

Not since the Spanish Civil War of three decades ago has a conflict been comparably so difficult and dangerous for those who cover it.

This is because it is a war without any front lines, without clearly marked friendly or enemy territory or clear lines between combatants. It is a war of treacherous ambushes and of swift hit-and-run attacks by a wily foe who materializes suddenly from jungle fastnesses, strikes viciously and vanishes.

It is a war in which scenes of action usually can be reached by newsmen only by air, and they are set down in battle arenas by helicopters often under murderous Viet Cong fire.

Reporters and photographers regularly venture to places where the action is, to record in words and on film the color, the flavor, the terror, the triumphs and the heartbreaks of a confused and confusing conflict.

All this is why five members of the press corps died this year, three of them within the past 40 days. It is why others of them have been wounded and still others have had hair-raising narrow escapes.

About 300 newspaper, press agency, magazine, radio and television correspondents are accredited at this time to cover the Viet Nam war.

The Associated Press, with the largest contingent, had 16 non-Vietnamese and 17 Vietnamese staffers on the job on a regular basis. The AP keeps men with all sizable units in the field, not only for the important, close-up stories and pictures of the battles, but to keep people in home towns in the United States aware of the individual exploits of GIs in action. As a general rule, about half the AP's men in Viet Nam are in the field with the troops at any given time. Others are holding down the important headquarters assignments in Saigon, or resting from arduous assignments in battle areas.

The reporters who go into the field with the troops do so with full knowledge of the dangers. They figure the great stories and pictures are worth the risks. Sometimes they are losers.

One was Dickey Chapelle. She was a frequent traveler to Viet Nam who had taken many risks in many wars, and she died last week in a Viet Cong booby trap.

Two Associated Press photographers died in October — Bernard Kolenberg from Albany, N.Y., and Huynh Thanh My, from Viet Nam. Kolenberg was doing what many other newsmen had — riding a Skyraider bomber. It either was shot down or collided with another aircraft.

Huynh Thanh My, an expert and daring photographer born and bred in the Mekong delta, died there when the Ranger battalion he was accompanying was partly overrun by Viet Cong.

There have been many near-misses. James Reston, of the New York Times, walked from the wreckage of a Navy plane that crashed and crumpled while attempting to land at Da Nang airport. Robin Manno of The Associated Press was cut up but otherwise escaped when his helicopter crashed in flames in the An Khe Valley.

In the field, battles begin and end with startling speed, and unless a man is there when it happens he might as well not be there at all.

Getting to a battlefield fast enough is perilous in itself. Because of ever-present danger of mines and ambushes, newsmen tend to stay clear of convoys, but sometimes there is no other way to get where they want to go.

Usually, travel is by air. Groundfire and frequent air turbulence and the creaking joints of the much-used military aircraft, make all this a hazardous business. Helicopters have proved vulnerable to ground fire, collisions and engine failures.

Reporters say the possibility of death or injury in aircraft and on the road is mainly a matter of luck. Little can be done about it.

Up front with the troops, the reporter at least has a fighting chance. Experienced reporters and cameramen talk about the intuition they have about operations. Some say they can smell safety or peril.

Horst Faas, Pulitzer Prize photographer for The Associated Press, has plenty of such intuition, and that is why he is alive today. He says: "Never go in with a relief force — it will surely be ambushed."

Faas ignored his own rule deliberately during the battle of Dong Xoai early this year. The Ranger force he accompanied was nearly overrun, but it fought Viet Cong attackers to a standstill. Faas emerged with some of the war's greatest pictures.

"I weighed up everything beforehand," Faas said. "The pictures and story I knew I would find there were worth the risks."

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Patch Test to Check Allergy to Some Drugs

By Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q — My daughter, 17, is allergic to several drugs. Will it be safe for her to take immunizing shots for poliomyelitis and tetanus? Can she be given skin tests to see whether she is sensitive to these shots and to various drugs? A dermatologist tells me that no skin test can be made for such drugs as penicillin and the sulfas.

A — Allergy to such drugs as penicillin, the sulfas, aspirin, quinine, some vitamin preparations, castor oil and cascara, and the barbiturates is common. There is no danger from taking the oral poliomyelitis vaccine or tetanus toxoid but an allergic reaction from injected polio vaccine and antitetanus serum is possible.

For those drugs for which a preliminary sensitivity test made by a minute injection into the skin is not possible, a different type of skin test—a patch test—can be made.

Q — My husband gets up eight or nine times a night to urinate but only passes one or two ounces each time. What do you think might be wrong?

A — The most likely cause is a benign enlargement of your husband's prostate. He should consult a urologist and have the part of the prostate that is obstructing the free flow of urine removed. There is no other treatment and the condition will slowly worsen if steps are not taken to correct it.

Q — I have had a mild case of prostate trouble. Now my doctor says I have a dry prostate. What is it and what can be done for it?

A — If after a prostatic massage your doctor cannot recover any prostatic secretion, you have a dry prostate. I think your doctor is trying to tell you that your prostatitis has been cured or is well on the way to a cure.

Q — What would make black and blue places occur after slight pressure on my skin?

A — The most likely cause is purpura, a disease due to a deficiency of blood platelets. In some persons this condition is associated with an allergy, especially to such drugs as quinine, the sulfas, trimethadione (for epilepsy), potassium perchlorate, some antibiotics, oral diato get that car back that afternoon—that was to walk back downtown after it — and tired as he was, he started out. Surely, he thought, somebody would pick him up. But they didn't offer. They still went by and waved at him.

From now on he is going to watch for people along the way and if he sees anybody walking, even if he knows they have two or three cars, he is going to offer a ride, for that, he has learned, is the kindest thing a person could do, and certainly the most appreciated. A wave is just an irritation—and when anyone is walking there must be a reason. Next time he is going to find out what the reason is when he drives along. If they want to walk they can say so, if they don't he will give them a lift. H. L.

Michael Vincent of Constableville, N. Y., writes, "What do you think of my partner's four spade bid and my jump to six? The result was excellent, since there was no problem at all in the play. Of course, I gambled that my partner would have second-round control in spades."

The answer to Mr. Vincent's question is that the North hand is a "book" four-spade bid. Almost every bridge book today explains that the jump to four of partner's major suit opening shows 13 or more points in support of partner's suit and not more than 10 points in high cards.

North held exactly 10 high card points and the addition of three points for the singleton produced the magic number of 13. Incidentally, when you play limit major raises, the jump to four is not changed a bit.

As for Mr. Vincent's jump to six spades, he went right out of the book. All books explain carefully that in order to move to six spades after your partner jumps to four, you need a lot of high cards and first or second round control of all suits.

Michael's 15 high card points don't meet the first requirement, and he has two quick potential losing diamond tricks.

Therefore the six-spade call was not a "book" bid but it was a mighty good one.

No guarantee went with the slam bid until dummy hit the table, but Michael had a lot going for him. He had very good trumps, no losers at all in hearts and clubs, and there was a really good chance that North would show up with either a singleton diamond, the ace or the king.

Gremlins, Lincoln Suffer Losses In League Tourney

The Sacred Heart Gremlins lost their first game of the season Thursday night, being defeated by Warsaw's Wildcats, 58-53, in the PBCAA Tournament at Cole Camp.

The Gremlins, however, are still in contention for third place honors, set to go against Lincoln's Cardinals Saturday. Lincoln lost to Northwest in a squeaker Thursday, 33-32.

WARSAW 58, SACRED HEART 53

The Gremlins were trailing by one point in each of the first two quarters, and then suffered a ten point set-back in the third as Warsaw enforced its attack.

Still game, the Grems came back in a last surge for the victory in the fourth quarter, netting 21 tallies that period, just five shy of a tie which would have sent the game into overtime.

Sacred Heart's Mike Maple, a 5-8 senior, spearheaded the Gremlin drive with seven field goals and four charity tosses. Maple put on a brilliant display of versatility during the contest.

Top gun for Warsaw was Tom Shephardson, who drummed the backboards for 22 points on nine field goals and four from the charity line. He was followed by Bobby Barnes with 18.

Score by quarters:

Warsaw 10 14 20 14—58
Sacred Heart 9 13 10 21—53

Individual scoring: Warsaw—Barb, 4-0-8; Shephardson, 9-2-22; Barnes, 7-4-18; Cothern, 2-0-4; Day, 3-0-6. Sacred Heart—Maple, 7-4-18; Scherer, 7-0-14; Visentine, 4-0-8; Burke, 1-0-2; Kruse, 3-1-7; Kniest, 2-0-4.

NORTHWEST 33, LINCOLN 32

The Mustangs, in one of their lowest scoring performances in many games, collected a bare four points in the opening quarter of the game, and Lincoln's Cardinals, in that first quarter at least, looked as though they might upset Northwest.

The Mustangs, however, held Lincoln to eight points in the second period and scored 14 themselves for a 18-15 lead at the half. Lincoln threatened again in the final period of play, and a last-minute scramble for points was the only thing that preserved Northwest's earlier lead.

Jim Kessler and Jerry Vardeman paced Northwest's attack, both hitting for five from the field and two from the free throw line for 12 points each. Tops for Lincoln was Duane Brandsgaard with 18 points on a 7-and-4 combination.

The victory pits Northwest against Warsaw Saturday for the championship, while Lincoln will go against Sacred Heart on the same day for third place honors.

Smithton and Cole Camp meet today for the consolation trophy.

Score by quarters:

Northwest 4 14 8 7—33
Lincoln 7 8 6 11—32

Individual scoring: Northwest—Kessler, 5-2-12; Wiley, 2-0-4; Brownfield, 1-0-2; Coffelt, 0-1-1; Vardeman, 5-2-12; Dow, 1-0-2.

Lincoln—Brandsgaard, 7-4-18; Farris, 2-1-5; Hunt, 3-1-7; Davis, 1-0-2.

Volleyball action Thursday saw Smithton lose to Cole Camp, 37-10, with Pat Benker and Carol Harms leading the Cole Camp attack with seven points each. High for Smithton was Dixon with four.

LaMonte trounced Green

Ridge, 31-19, also in volleyball, with Jones leading the LaMonte attack with eight, while Rosie Miller was high for Green Ridge with seven.

For Missouri

Bowl Bid May Follow Contest

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ninth-ranked Missouri, hopefully headed for the Sugar Bowl or the Cotton Bowl, goes against Oklahoma at Columbia in the Big Eight's top game Saturday while Nebraska moves a step closer to a perfect season and a likely Orange Bowl trip against Oklahoma State at Stillwater.

Third-place Colorado, mentioned for the Sun Bowl, hopes to nail down a third-place 4-2-1 Big Eight finish against sixth-place Kansas, 2-3, at Boulder. Colorado is a solid favorite.

Iowa State is favored to finish at the break-even 3-3-1 level with a victory over Kansas State at Ames. Injury-riddled K-State is without a victory in eight games.

Missouri faces a 20-year hex. The Tigers haven't beaten Oklahoma in Columbia since 1945, a year they went on to lose to Texas in the Cotton Bowl. In fact, Missouri in the same period has beaten Oklahoma only once at Norman, 41-19 in 1960, a year they went on to beat Navy in the Orange Bowl.

It follows, then, a bowl bid will be likely if Missouri wins.

Oklahoma will be without line-backer Carl McAdams, a leading All America candidate. Don Kindley, 200-pound senior, will take his place.

Missouri's giant sophomore end, Russell Washington, also will miss the game with an injury. Dan Schuppan, 79 pounds lighter at 195, will replace him. Missouri is 4-1 in league play, Oklahoma 3-1.

Gary Lane, Missouri's talented quarterback, appears to have hit his stride the last two games with Nebraska and Colorado. The Tigers are a solid favorite.

A turnout of 52,000 is expected. Nebraska could make a bowl decision after the OSU game, which will draw about 33,000. It's likely the Huskers will meet Alabama in the Orange Bowl.

The third-ranked Huskers, seeking their first perfect season since 1915, lead the nation in rushing and are No. 2 in scoring and total offense. OSU appears to be outmanned, with its 0-4 league record.

Colorado's talented young club with losses only to Nebraska and Missouri, is pointing for a 6-2-2 finish, best since the 1961 title game.

Kansas will be without three regulars. One is injured and two quit the squad. Even with them on hand, Colorado would be a strong choice. A turnout of 30,000 is expected.

K-State will go with Mike White at quarterback. Vic Castillo, who lost his job to White in the Cincinnati game, will miss the game because of the death of his father. Iowa State's potent air game led by Tim Van Galder and the power running of Les Webster and Willie Robinson makes the Cyclones a strong favorite before 18,000.

Washington 21, Philadelphia 17—Redskins seem to know the secret on how to handle Eagles. Philadelphia offense strong but Pete Retzlaff has bruised ribs and sore heel.

Detroit 17, San Francisco 24—This could be an upset. The 49ers have the most explosive attack in league but the Lions are tops in defense. That Detroit front four took Bart Starr apart last week and will be zooming in on George Mira or John Brodie.

AFL
Oakland 17, Buffalo 14—Raiders are clicking since Fred Biletnikoff started to get hot. Larry Todd a real sleeper last week against Oilers.

New York 21, Boston 17—Joe Namath gets the call as quarterback on his showing against Chiefs. Jets confident after winning two straight and breaking road jinx.

Houston 24, Denver 21—The Oilers live or die by the pass. After George Blanda threw 60 in a losing effort last week Don Trull may be in there. Both teams weak on defense. Denver won first game 28-17.

San Diego 21, Kansas City 14

S-C Tigers In Last Game Here

Some people who make it their business to decide in advance what team will win or lose, have come to the decision that Smith-Cotton's Tigers will lose their last game of the season to Springfield Parkview at Jennie-Jaynes Stadium tonight.

The Bengals are third in the Central Missouri Conference, whereas Parkview's Vikings are champions of the Ozark League. That might have had something to do with the outcome of at least one forecaster's choice.

However, the Tigers themselves aren't so sure that the outcome of the game will favor Springfield. Recent reports indicate, at least, that the Vikings will have to work for every TD they collect.

Going into the last game of the season, the Tigers own a 6-3-0 record for the season. Against the Springfield team itself, Smith-Cotton owns a 2-7-1 record since the two schools started playing each other.

Springfield has some rather dark memories concerning the Tigers. The Vikings suffered a 33-13 setback at the hands of the Tigers last year.

As for Smith-Cotton, the Bengals will play nine men who will see their last football game in the Tiger colors tonight. They are: David Miesner, Steve Long, Jim Lewellen, Joe Lamy, Bill Herrick, Fred Kelley, Larry Scantlin, Jim Arnest and Buddy Cusick.

Coach Dick Rees fully expects a top effort from the Bengals and all indications point to one of the more interesting games the Bengals have played this season.

Game time is 8 p.m. Fans are reminded that it will be "Parents Night" for the mothers and fathers of Smith-Cotton players, who will be honored during the game. There will be flowers for Mom and Dad will wear the same number that his son wears on the playing field.

Hofman To Replace Herzog As A's Coach

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Bobby Hofman, former New York Giant infielder, will replace Whitey Herzog as a coach for the Kansas City Athletics.

Hofman, 39, has managed the Athletics' farm club at Vancouver in the Pacific Coast League since Haywood Sullivan was called up last summer to become manager of the A's.

Herzog announced Wednesday that he had resigned, but Charles O. Finley, Athletics owner, said Thursday he was fired last Friday because of a salary dispute.

Pimlico Holds Spotlight In Racing Circles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now that the Washington, D.C., International is over, the spotlight in thoroughbred racing shifts Saturday to the $213,990 Futurity at Pimlico. This is the race that may produce the favorite for the Nov. 20 running of the $300,000 Garden State Stakes.

Buckpasser, the top 2-year-old, has been retired for the year. His absence has led to the likelihood of a big field of 12 or 13 topped by Fathers Image, who lost by a half-length to Buckpasser in the Arlington-Washington Futurity.

Other promising 2-year-olds expected to go in the 1-1-6 miles are Advocate, a neck winner over Fathers Image in the Cowdoin, Our Michael, Amherd, Gunflint, Spring Double, Deck Hand, Odd Dancer, Hand-some Boy and possibly Stupendous, a stablemate of Buckpasser from the Wheatley Stable.

5 Players Share Lead In Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Five players, including veteran Billy Maxwell of Dallas, Tex., share the first-round lead in the Mexican Open Golf Tournament, but if it hadn't been for two shots, Canada's Alvie Thompson very well could be on top.

But what shots they were. Thompson, of Westvale, Ont., got through the first 18 holes with a four-over-par 76, six strokes off the pace. Eleven of those 76 strokes came on the par 4 15th hole. Two of the 11 strokes hit him.

The runner-up in the Canadian PGA was coasting along in the lead when he met the 15th. Lying 40 feet from the hole, he hit a chip shot that struck a mound and bounced up against his arm.

Forced to play the next shot left-handed, he again hit the mound, and this time the ball struck him in the eye. He didn't hit himself any more, but he also didn't hold the lead any more.

"It must be the altitude or something," commented Thompson. "I do the weirdest things down here."

Three years ago he went into the final day tied for the lead in the Mexican Open. He teed off from the first hole and drove his first three shots into the lake. He took a 10 on the hole and a backseat in the final standings.

Maxwell finished the opening round at the 6,800-yard Bellavista course with a 70, tied with Dudley Wyson of McKinney, Tex.; Larry Ziedler of St. Louis,

Unbeaten Jays End Season

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)
Pity Bob Roark.

Last year, he coached the Columbia (Mo.) Hickman High School football team to a 9-1 record and the student body hanged him in effigy. It was a case of justifiable envy.

Hickman fans simply got tired of losing to the Jefferson City Jays. Everyone else has too.

The Jays have a 66 game winning streak, including 31 shutouts, stretching back to 1958.

Only a handful of teams have gotten within one touchdown of the Jays, who before this year had not been behind since 1961. Three boys from one family graduated from the school without ever tasting defeat.

All the Jays are homegrown. "We've never had more talent than we could use," said Pete Adkins, the man who deserves most of the credit.

The amazing streak began when he became coach in 1958. An excellent organizer, he eats and sleeps football seven days a week and passes off his enthusiasm and drive to the players.

"Three-fourths of our boys have only average ability when they start," said the 35-year-old former guard for little Culver-Stockton College in Canton, Mo. "But, they work hard and become sound football players."

Thursday as he prepared his team for its last game of the season tonight, he said:

"We have a problem getting the boys up week after week, but they've got a lot of pride. The seniors come back each year saying 'we won't be the ones to lose'."

Jefferson City, with a population of about 30,000 has become a football crazy town.

"We live from Friday to Friday," says John Hayes, president of a 500 member booster club that has hawked tickets, bought equipment and donated its time and labor to such things as building a press box, a practice field and putting tile on the locker room.

The rabid townfolk pack the 6,000 seat stadium, and flow into the end zone for every home game. About 1,500 attend road games.

The school has an enrollment of 1,200.

and Mexicans Antonio Cerda and Guadalupe Perez.

Tied at 71 were Gene Littler, Ernie Vossler, Spain's Angel Miguel and Mexicans Oswaldo de Vicenzo, Juan Neri and Roman Cruz.

Defending champion Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, Pa., was worse off than Thompson, taking a 77 after shooting six over on the back nine.

After 119 Fights

Sugar Ray Quits The Fight Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson finally has decided to hang up the gloves at the age of 45 after 199 fights in a brilliant career that is sure to lead to boxing's Hall of Fame.

The fierce pride of a man who has been acclaimed the best fighter pound-for-pound in recent ring history kept him going long after his contemporaries had quit. It took a decisive beating by young Joey Archer Wednesday night in Pittsburgh to end Ray's dreams of another championship fight.

"I hoped to fight for the championship again," Robinson said Thursday afternoon in his Pittsburgh hotel room before leaving for his New York home. Robinson was stretched out lazily in bed, his head propped on a pillow, his face bearing marks from Archer's stinging left jab.

"If I had beaten Archer, I'd have had a chance," Robinson said. Then he added wistfully, "But I didn't win. It's too late to go on another long campaign for another chance."

Was there a chance that Ray might change his mind, as he had done in 1954 after retiring in 1952?

"I don't think there is any chance," said the former welter and five-time middleweight champion of the world.

"With all due respect to Archer, he's not a puncher," said Ray. "He punched me when I was off balance and I got knocked down. Somebody was talking about a return match but I didn't say anything."

The record books say Robinson is 45 but he claims he is only 44. No matter now. He has had 199 fights since he turned pro in 1940, back in the days when men like Lew Jenkins, Fritz Zivic, Joe Louis and Billy Conn ruled the roost. He won 173, lost 19, and had 6 draws and one no-decision contest.

Joey Maxim was the only man to stop him and that was due to a case of exhaustion in the 106-degree heat at Yankee Stadium June 25, 1952. Sugar Ray had stopped 109 opponents. In two more years he will be eligible for the Hall of Fame.

"I'm going to build houses," Robinson said. "The Sugar Ray Construction Co. is being organized. We'll do slum clearance and build houses for the people who need them.

"Then I'm going to make a movie with Rod Taylor in California in January and another in Barcelona, Spain, with Broderick Crawford, a war picture. I'm going to get back into show business."

Show biz always has been Robinson's real love. When he quit in 1952 he became a song-and-dance man, touring Europe. But there never was the kind of money that he could get in the ring where his earnings approached the $4-million mark.

George Gainford, the man who has been with him during most of those 26 long years, nodded his head when he heard that Ray has made up his mind to quit.

"I agree 1,000 per cent," said the Emperor.

Shortage of Chefs Gives New Twist for Restaurants

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — A shortage of chefs is giving a new twist to the restaurant business across the United States.

The pancakes you have for breakfast in a restaurant, the shrimpburger lunch, the cocktail party hors d'oeuvres, and the beef stroganoff dinner probably come out of a box.

Restaurants, faced with a labor shortage, limited space and mounting costs, are turning to packaged mixes and frozen foods. So are hospitals, schools, airlines and ships.

One major restaurant school had 3,000 more job offers than it had graduates last year.

The number of restaurants has been increasing. There are 378,460 commercial restaurants in the country, 6,170 more than last year. The biggest gain has been in quick-service facilities.

At a recent frozen food show in New York, the emphasis was on institution-size packages, for restaurants and others.

There were breaded and glazed ready-to-cook "gourmet filets," shrimp, scallops, 10-pound bags of eggs, and pastry dough.

"The biggest obstacle in selling frozen entrees to the institutional trade is the matter of the chef's ego," said a spokesman for a restaurant chain.

He suggested that chefs who like to tend their own sauces might look more favorably on something that required partial preparation in their own kitchens.

But Davis V. Whitley of Chicago, newly elected president of the National Association of Food Packers, has found no such resistance.

"The old notion of the chef wanting to keep his finger in the pie is dissipating," he said.

Whitley said the institutional market had become the fastest growing segment of the $5-billion annual frozen food business, and now amounted to nearly one-third of all frozen food sales.

three restaurants this year with 40 per cent less kitchen space than normal.

"This was possible because of the use of prepared convenience foods," said James Biggar, the company's marketing vice president. "Two years ago, Stouffer would not have considered use of frozen prepared foods in its own restaurants."

In ancient times it was a legal custom to put animals on trial. It was thought that animals were intelligent and therefore responsible for their acts. Plato once wrote, "If a beast of burden or any other animal shall kill anyone, except while the animal is competing in the public games, the relatives of the deceased shall prosecute it for murder." A donkey condemned to death in France in 1750 was pardoned because of good character.
